bdipak Airless Bottle Cosmetic packaging series

The design of the bdipak " airless pump bottle " follows a simple concept. The design is mainly the body of the bottle with a piston which functions like an injection syringe. This allows the bottle to contain various viscosity skincare creams while keeping it fresh, natural, and preservative free. As a result of this brilliant design, there is no chance for the contents of the bottle to be contaminated or exposed to the outside environment which makes it perfect for lotions, cream, serums, liquid foundations, etc. The top and bottom colors of the bottle can be customized per your design. All the materials used to create the bottle are environmentally friendly.
